Nixon Woos Farmers with New Proposals

He Urges Surplus Use For Shipping Abroad Home Food Reserve

GUTHRIE CENTER, Iowa (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon made a pitch for the farm vote today by advocating a domestic strategic food reserve and heavier shipments abroad to cut price-depressing surpluses.

The food reserves would be stored around the country against emergencies like "sudden international requirements, or an enemy attack."

The Republican presidential nominee tagged his four-part proposal "Operation Consume" and said it would isolate surplus stocks from the commercial market "as completely, effectively and quickly as we can."

Nixon tied in with the proposed food reserve and expansion of shipments abroad under the "Food-for-peace" program, the use of "payments-in-kind" from farm surpluses to farmers for retirement of land from production of the same crops.

These three proposals followed generally the outlines of the 1960 Republican platform. The fourth called for "urgent exploration of the conversion of grain to protein foods" for distribution to the hungry here and abroad.

Nixon saw it as a means of converting excess grains into low-cost canned meat, powdered milk and eggs by feeding them to livestock, dairy cattle and poultry.

The protein foods would be available to needy nations and to the school lunch programs in this country.

In his address, prepared for delivery at the 21st Annual Plowing Contest, Nixon set a target date of four years for bringing the $10-billion farm surplus down to manageable proportions.

"We need to get the surplus off the farmer's back and off the nation's back as well," he said.

Nixon acknowledged his proposals would call for increased farm appropriations at first.

"But in evaluating costs," he continued, "we must take into account the present tremendous outlays that we will thereby be getting rid of as we reduce the surpluses. In other words, we must and should be willing to pay more now in order to take a big bite out of the surplus and to reach the target date, recognizing that the costs over-all will be less in the long run."

Nixon reserved, until a speech next week at Sioux Falls, S. D., a disclosure of what he proposes to do, if elected, about the controversial problem of price supports. This second speech may provide a clearer indication of how he differs with Ezra Taft Benson, President Eisenhower's secretary of agriculture.

His speech next week will outline a companion proposal, "Operation Safeguard," designed, he said, to avoid the building up of "new, unmanageable surpluses."

Nixon Assured Of Coat at Least

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon may not be sure he can pick up the votes in Virginia, but he knows where he can get a raincoat.

Eight years ago when Nixon was campaigning in Danville, a Roanoke man, L. V. Hovis, loaned him a raincoat in an emergency.

The coat was never returned. With threatening skies here Thursday, Hovis thought Nixon might be unprepared again.

Hovis met him at Woodrum Airport and loaned him a new rain coat.

Kennedy Plugs Hard for Full Employment

Pennsylvanians Hear Pledge of Job for Anyone Seeking Work

With Kennedy in Pennsylvania (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy hit hard on the economic issue today as he campaigned across Pennsylvania for 32 vital electoral votes denied the Democrats since Franklin D. Roosevelt's 1944 fourth term drive.

The presidential nominee was expected to lay down in appearances at Lebanon, Reading, Lancaster, York and other state points on his way to a Baltimore, Md., night speech this pledge: That the Democrats intend to see to it that "everybody who wants to work in America has the opportunity to work and at decent wages."

This was what Kennedy was supposed to say Thursday night on a statewide television appearance but didn't. Instead, he threw his prepared speech into the ash can and talked about what he said is Vice President Richard M. Nixon's slogan that "You never had it so good."

Kennedy said that in Pennsylvania, the home of big steel, 335,000 men and women were unemployed last month and one out of every 14 workers was "actively seeking a job and unable to find it."

"I know we can do better," he said. "This is not 1932. We are not moving back."

"I cannot believe that a country which is faced with so many challenges at home and abroad cannot meet the problem of full employment so that our people can find work when they want it."

What Kennedy left out of his prepared address—and it has become a habit with him to ignore these advanced texts—was a declaration that full employment has become "a dead letter under the Republicans."

Pierre Salinger, the candidate's press secretary, said that Kennedy stands behind any prepared text, issued in advance to newsmen.

Thursday was a big day for Kennedy. His crowds at various way points on a 110-mile motorcade from Jersey City to Trenton, N.J. were compared by Maj. Arthur Capella, a veteran of the New Jersey State Police, to those that Franklin D. Roosevelt used to command.

Gov. Robert B. Meyner told reporters that he had seen nothing like it in his campaigning, dating back to 1952.

New Jersey ranks fourth in the number of Catholics among its voters. Sharp evidence of the interest in his candidacy was furnished by the turnout of flag-waving parochial school students in such areas as Patterson, where about half of all the city's students attend Catholic schools.

But in other areas of New Jersey Kennedy had it as good. Almost everywhere he went the crowds pressed in on him, defying police attempts to guard him. A majority of the members of the throngs were women.

Ike Leaving Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower expects to check out of Walter Reed Army Hospital today after an overnight stay for the first part of his annual physical checkup.

Without funds from the PCCF drive the services of these agencies would have to be curtailed. Last year more than 3,100 persons took advantage of the services offered by the aid agencies.

Business and Industrial campaigns are to open their portions of the drive Monday also.

The Residential and County Divisions will begin solicitations a week from Monday. Final date for the campaign is October 3.

THE DRIVE has been cut from three weeks to two weeks this year. It is hoped that the more than 500 residents of the county who will participate in the solicitation will be able to make all calls in the two-week period.

Most frequent gift is an average of $1 an agency, or $6. If all in the county gave at that rate there

Castro Jails U.S. Secretary

American Protest Is Brushed Aside

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro's secret police held an attractive blonde U.S. Embassy secretary in jail today and brushed off protests by the American ambassador.

The seizure of Mrs. Marjorie Lennox, 26, of San Francisco, a confidential secretary in the embassy's important economic section, was dramatic evidence of the virtual breakdown in U.S. - Cuban relations.

U.S. Ambassador Philip Bonsal called her arrest "completely illegal." Cuban authorities refused to tell him what charges—if any—they have against her.

The ambassador went personally to the foreign ministry to deliver a blistering oral protest Thursday after earlier written protests were ignored.

The first embassy official who tried to see Mrs. Lennox at headquarters of the Cuban military intelligence—DIER—was held there four hours himself and then sent away.

Later another official managed to see Mrs. Lennox for a few minutes and reported she was hysterical at the time. Two later attempts by embassy officials to contact her Thursday night were rebuffed.

Armed agents of Castro's security forces raided Mrs. Lennox's apartment in the heart of the tourist belt in the fashionable Vedado section at 1:30 Thursday morning.

She was held 10 hours while they questioned her and searched the apartment and then was taken to DIER headquarters.

Her arrest came to light only after she failed to show up for work.

Mrs. Lennox, who is divorced, has worked in Cuba since last November. Her passport does not carry diplomatic immunity but it was considered a serious breach of protocol to jail a diplomatic employee without referring the case to the embassy.

Lackawanna-Erie Merger Gets Nod

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Erie and Lackawanna railroads have joined forces in the largest railroad merger of the century. The new combined road should be in operation within 45 days.

The Interstate Commerce Commission gave its okay Thursday. All that remains is for the boards of the two railroads to approve the ICC's conditions for the merger and to set up a unified administrative operation.

The combination of the Erie Railroad and the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad, to use the Lackawanna's formal name gives the new company about 3,000 miles of track in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

The new railroad will be called the Erie, Lackawanna Railroad Co.

Headquarters for the fund campaign will be in the lobby of the American Hotel. The headquarters will be manned by Mrs. William Champion and Mrs. Lewis Young. They will be on duty from 1 to 5 p. m. each day during the two-week drive.

DiSalle Proposes 4 Platform Planks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has asked the Democratic state platform committee to adopt as planks four of his proposals which failed to be enacted by the Democratic-dominated Ohio legislature last year.

The proposals would:

Set up conflict-of-interest ground rules for public officials.

Make criminal conspiracy a felony under state law.

Limit campaign expenditures by political parties.

Repeat the present "reconstruction cost" formula, used to establish rate bases for utilities, in favor of a "fair value" formula.

The platform on which Democratic candidates will run this year will be adopted Saturday by the party's state convention.

The convention opens at 6:30 tonight with a $10-a-plate banquet and a keynote speech by Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich.

DiSalle used the occasion to renew his invitation to Ohio Republicans "to join in a bipartisan, or even totally Republican, study of the financial condition of Ohio."

"I don't know what could be fairer than that," the governor told newsmen Thursday.

In a letter to Ohio GOP Chairman Ray C. Bliss, DiSalle wrote:

Religious Group Says No

Criticism of DiSalle Meant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Rev. Donald H. Gill, executive director of Citizens for Religious Freedom, says the organization's recent statement that Catholic schools teach in some Ohio public schools was meant to indicate a situation Gov. Mike DiSalle could correct.

"If Gov. DiSalle will investigate," Gill said in a statement, "he will find that in many Ohio communities Roman Catholic schools under vows of total obedience to their orders are teaching distinctive doctrines of their faith in public schools and are receiving salaries from public tax funds. These funds are going without income tax deductions to their orders."

"Our (original) statement was not intended to criticize the governor of the state but to indicate a situation which he might correct."

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, who became a storm center of the dispute, said he was only an innocent bystander — "a babe in the woods," in his own words — when a group of Protestant ministers and laymen met in Washington to issue a statement on the subject. Dr. Peale said he has resigned from the group.

Meanwhile, the Republican and Democratic national chairmen debated even as they accused each other's backers of trying to keep it alive.

The new round of statements by Sen. Henry M. Jackson, the Democratic chairman, and Sen. Thurston B. Morton, the Republican leader, did little meanwhile to quiet the controversy concerning the Roman Catholic religion of John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee.

Morton, noting a Jackson statement that the mails are being flooded with anti-Catholic literature, accused Jackson of "tidying up to keep the discussion of religion alive in the belief it will benefit the Democrat (sic) candidate."

Jackson, saying he knew of none from Republican party leaders, charged that the mailings were an effort to defeat Kennedy. Morton contended that Jackson made charges by innuendo that "he knows are wholly unfounded."

In a statement replying Thursday night, Jackson called on Vice President Richard M. Nixon "to publicly repudiate those who are carrying on a campaign of religious bigotry or forever bear the consequences."

Ethel, spawned rapidly in the gulf off the Yucatan Peninsula Wednesday, became a full-fledged hurricane with winds over 75 miles per hour in the afternoon. It moved erratically up the gulf and went inland slightly west of Biloxi about noon Thursday.

Ethel packed 150 m.p.h. winds for a brief time Wednesday but when it slammed into the coast the winds had decreased to 75 m.p.h.

Middle coast residents, with Hurricane Donna's devastation fresh in their minds, hurried away along a 500 mile stretch from New Orleans to St. Marks, Fla.

One Red Cross official said more than 48,000 were housed in shelters, while Civil Defense estimates of evacuees ranged near 65,000.

Officials said precautions taken last week for Donna proved a dress rehearsal for Ethel. No monetary estimate of damage was yet available but it was expected to be minimal.

Discoverer XV was launched into a polar orbit Tuesday at Vandenberg AFB. The orbit was nearly perfect. What caused the capsule to fall far south of the recovery area hasn't been determined.

Discoverer XV carried only instruments.

"You and I both know that some of our candidates . . . feel being elected is much more important than telling the truth."

"Just think what a great service could be rendered if the two major political parties would combine in providing the people with a correct analysis of the current financial situation."

Saying the study could be conducted by an all-Republican group if desired, the governor added:

"They could make a report before the election or afterwards. If you felt that there would be political advantage to the Republican party by releasing it before the election, this would be your opinion. I would waive the right to question your determination or motivation."

In the same letter, DiSalle expressed regret that the Republican state convention closed early this week without acting on his invitation for a thorough airing of the state's finances which the GOP platform criticized severely.

Elsewhere on the political front, Democratic State Chairman William L. Coleman told newsmen that the party's election campaign fund-raising goal this year is about $125,000, compared with about $3 million which he expects the Ohio GOP will raise.

Meanwhile, Patrice Lumumba, rescued from screaming Congolese troops bent on lynching him, faces an uphill fight in his attempt to upset the rule of army chief Col. Joseph Mobutu.

Mobutu me, continuing their crackdown on the Communist-supported Lumumba faction, drove up in a truck to his official residence.

With U.N. Ghana troops standing by but taking no part, Mobutu's soldiers deployed round the residence and the premier's administrative offices across the street.

The soldiers herded all the members of Lumumba's staff they could find into the truck and drove away—presumably to Camp Leopold II on the outskirts of Leopoldville.

Lumumba, who was reported in hiding in another villa of the capital's European section, was also believed to have been picked up. The actions constituted the most decisive show of force since Mobutu, the 29-year-old chief of staff proclaimed Wednesday that the army was taking over control of the young nation's chaotic government.

Mobutu has recognized President Joseph Kasavubu as chief of state, but at the same time sought to impose a "neutralization" of all political activity.

The disputed premier had lost control over many Congo followers in his struggle against Mobutu and Kasavubu.

Meanwhile Kasavubu sent a protest to the United Nations against the action of Ghana troops who protected Lumumba from angry Congolese soldiers at Camp Leopold Thursday.

The president said the Ghana troops had prevented Congolese troops from carrying out an arrest warrant he had signed against Lumumba and thus were interfering in the Congo's internal affairs.

Witnesses of the incident in Camp Leopold said the troops actually tried twice to lynch Lumumba who just managed to get away, with his shirt torn, from fist-shaking men shouting "kill, kill."

No Ike-Khrush Chat Scheduled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today no overture has been received from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev for a private meeting with President Eisenhower.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty made this statement when asked about a London news report that unidentified Soviet diplomatic sources have said Khrushchev was amenable to a reconciliation with Eisenhower.

"I would say they are speculative and somewhat propagandistic stories that do not even emanate from Chairman Khrushchev," Hagerty said.

The President has not ruled out such a get-together if it would prove useful for peace. However, Eisenhower has said that some conditions should be met, including freeing of two American fliers shot down in an RB47 plane July 1.

Kennedy and Johnson, candidates for president and vice president, invited Smith to the reception, held in the Ways and Means Committee Room in the Capitol.

U.S. Personal Income Data Under Study

Economic Statistics Can Be Disturbing To Some Observers

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Perhaps you are surprised to read that personal income has risen to a record high. Particularly surprised if in your case you haven't noticed any such trend. Perhaps downright resentful if your own affairs have taken the opposite tack.

But the government says that the total of personal income has risen again and is now $407.6 billion a year. This persistent rise has been a comfort in recent months when many other economic statistics have been disappointing or disquieting.

The government's report on personal income as of August is less comforting than in previous months for several reasons.

The monthly rise was the smallest since February. And the $300-million increase over July, at an annual rate, was the exact amount by which federal paychecks rose as a result of the pay hike ordered by Congress. Adding in increases by state and local authorities, the total of government paychecks was up $500 million to $49 billion a year.

Running second to government payrolls was a gain in federal transfer payments, chiefly from a rise in unemployment benefits, of $400 million to $29.1 billion a year.

Other types of income showing modest rises were those from the service industries, dividends and personal interest payments.

Even more important perhaps are the items that declined.

The drop in personal income from other types of paychecks gives the economists little comfort as they view immediate prospects.

In manufacturing wage and salary payments dropped by $1.2 billion a year to $87.5 billion. Farm income was off by $500 million to $1.5 billion a year.

Professional income and rental payments were unchanged.

There are other ways of sizing up government statistics on personal income besides that of just what kind of endeavor is bringing in more and what is paying less.

One is the effect of the cost of living. This has been rising in recent months, but at a slow pace, so that most of the faster gain in personal income has represented real purchasing power.

But if the cost of services goes on creeping higher and especially if the price of goods should take a forward spurt — which seems unlikely now — the slowdown in rise of personal incomes will show up quickly in consumer spending habits.

Canton Bank Thug Faces U.S. Court Hearing

CLEVELAND (AP)—Harry Eugene Highfill, 32, charged with armed robbery of a branch of the Canton National Bank in Canton of $33,556 on Sept. 7, has been brought here for arraignment in U.S. District Court.

Highfill was arrested in the Hotel Dayton Biltmore Sept. 9. FBI agents said $49,000 and two automobiles were recovered. Bail was set at $50,000 in Dayton. Highfill spent Thursday night in county jail. Maximum penalty upon conviction is 25 years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

STUNNING UPSET—Thomas J. O'Connor, mayor of Springfield, Mass., is overwhelmed by cheering admirers at his Boston headquarters after his stunning, upset primary victory over Gov. Foster Furcolo. The governor was an odds-on favorite to win the Democratic nomination for the U. S. Senate.

Turnpike Truck Traffic Climbs

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Ohio Turnpike Commission has reported a substantial increase in the number of trucks using the turnpike in August of this year compared with last year.

This year's total was 237,617 as compared with last year's total of 196,515, an increase of 41,102.

The number of passenger cars using the turnpike in August this year, however, was 1,319,352 as compared with 1,332,996 in August of 1959, a decrease of 13,644.

Tolls from trucks in August of this year totaled $720,225 or $129.474 more than during the same period last year. Total revenue from passenger cars in August of this year was $1,702,587, a drop of $51,238 from the total in August of 1959.

Beer Price Minimum Rule Goes to Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Board of Liquor Control action last week authorizing a minimum markup of 25 per cent on retail beer sales has been appealed. A Columbus attorney filed the appeal Thursday in behalf of a Canton merchant, Salvatore Maggiore (1030 Cherry St.). The regulation would have become effective Friday midnight.

Prison Officials Startled, Pleased By Governor's Newest Proposals

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has laid out a new "prison policy" for officials of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction and calls for considerable cooperation from the finance and public works departments and the 1961 legislature.

He called in Dr. Robert A. Haines, director of the department of mental hygiene, and all of Haines' division chiefs this week. It was the first time DiSalle ever has met with the entire department group, and he left them a little startled — but generally pleased.

In effect, DiSalle told them that Ohio will never be able to establish thorough programs of education, vocational training and personal adjustment in its juvenile and adult penal institutions until the bottlenecks that create overcrowding and other problems are broken.

When veteran correction commissioner Maury C. Koblenz said it would take at least three years to complete a new maximum security prison for southern Ohio, DiSalle declared he'd like to "see the whole thing under a roof in two years."

He told Koblenz that money probably can be transferred from some fund (he said he does not know which at the moment) to pay for advance planning.

Koblenz said later that, with this possibility, his division will hasten its search for a site. Land already owned by the state would be preferred he said, to save money, and one possibility is use of land near London.

With medium security prisons at Marion, Lebanon and Grafton, Mansfield Reformatory can be turned into the maximum security institution for northern Ohio. If a southern Ohio maximum security prison can be built in the next couple of years, as DiSalle would like, Ohio Penitentiary in Columbus could be emptied and might be sold.

Dr. Haines said after the meeting:

"Past experience would not lead us to believe you could build a 2,000-bed institution and have it ready in two years, but the governor has given us something entirely new to think about and we certainly will be happy to work toward this."

DiSalle told John R. Ferguson, chief of the division of juvenile training, that it should be possible to do away with some of the overcrowding at Boys' Industrial School in Lancaster, where 832 youths are jammed in facilities for 600 (and which the state would like to see reduced to 350 to 400).

Less than four hours later, Ferguson was well under way with his report. He said two changes

Big Bronx Cheer Slated for Khrush

NEW YORK (AP)—The dock workers plan to heckle Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev when he sails into New York harbor Monday.

Thomas W. Gleason, general organizer of the International Longshoremen's Association, said his union is hiring an excursion boat to go down the bay to meet the Baltika the ship bringing Khrushchev here for the United Nations meeting.

The Baltika will dock at pier 73, East River and 25th street, 17 blocks south of the U. N.

When the Baltika is in earshot, Gleason said, the dockers will give out with catcalls and boos. The boat will be decorated with anti-Communist placards and banners.

And a band aboard the boat will play "God Bless America"—fortissimo.

845 Ohio Youths To Get Draft Call

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio selective service headquarters has issued an October induction call for 845 men. Youngest registrant who may be inducted on this call must be at least 22 years of age on or before Oct. 1 unless he is a volunteer.

The induction for September was for 786 men and the total call for October last year was for 756 men.

The induction call by counties: Pickaway 1, Madison 2, Ross 4.

Judge Says 2 Boys May Keep $600 Find

CLEVELAND (AP)—Judge Stanton Addams of East Cleveland Municipal Court ruled Thursday that two boys, Dennis Montgomery, 9, and Rex Zeller, 7, were entitled to keep the $600 they found in a drug store last December.

East Cleveland had objected to permitting the boys to keep the money on the grounds they had seen its owner drop it and made no effort to tell him of his loss. The money was in an envelope. The owner has never claimed it.

Salvation for Theater Lacking

NEW YORK (AP)—The American theater is in one way like a Bowerly bum.

Everyone knows there is something wrong with it, and nearly everyone has figured out a way to lead it to salvation.

Ralph Bellamy, president of Equity, the actor's union, has a solution, too. He sees pay television as the remedy.

To Bellamy the plight of the theater is financial rather than artistic.

"It's a result of a general economic pressure from all sides," he said.

"Even a simple play now costs $75,000 to $100,000 to produce. The same play 20 years ago would have cost $25,000 at the most."

"There are 75 to 80 plays brought into New York each year—and we are lucky if 25 to 30 stay awhile—but only four or five of these are real hits. Too often a play is either an instant hit, or an instant flop.

"There wasn't so much money lost in the old days. Even a flop might last a season. Everybody went to the theater then. There weren't so many other distractions."

Bellamy is convinced that pay television is on the way and that it will give the theater the biggest revival it has ever seen.

"The best of Broadway—everything—will be made available almost instantly to 180 million people," he said.

"There will be no flops. Every play will recover its money in one showing. All the big movies will be shown first on television, thus creating the world's biggest box office."

Dirty Campaign in Offing

Labor Day, having come and gone, the Presidential campaign of 1960 is on in earnest. Such added attractions as Henry Cabot Lodge and Governor Nelson Rockefeller eating bagels and lox at Grossinger's will give way to the main business at hand which is the great debate between Richard Nixon and John Kennedy. Lodge and Rockefeller are reputed to have also eaten kosher eggs—rolls, a concoction which would break the heart of a Peking chef.

As has become usual in recent elections, the managers of both candidates have signed pledges to conduct a clean campaign. The aforesaid managers have been duly photographed with Charles P. Taft, brother of the late and lamented Robert A. Taft. That ritual being over with, the campaign will proceed as expected. It is likely to be one of the dirtiest in political history.

It is bound to be a dirty campaign unless some debate issues appear. Up to now, no such issues have appeared. Neither Nixon nor Kennedy has projected a great thought. If, therefore, there is nothing to say or the candidates do not wish to say anything worth while, the campaign is whittled down to an ad hominem discussion.

The Democrats say, "Tricky Dick" and refer to how Nixon defeated Jerry Voorhis and Helen Gahagan Douglas—methods which invoke praise in others who like a candidate to fight for his job.

And the Republicans do not quarrel with the Pope but question the reliability of Pop. By Pop, they mean Joe Kennedy, a very shrewd businessman who has accumulated several hundred million dollars and many public honors without any unusual scandal.

The Liberals say that Nixon is anti-Semitic because he called Melvin Douglas, Hesselberg, which was his name at birth; the Republicans spread the tale that Kennedy is anti-Semitic because his father, Pop, as he will be referred to in this campaign, once said something favorable about Hitler.

The Anti-Defamation League gets into the row by giving both of the candidates a clean bill of health, a "hekscher" which means that they are both kosher, which may or may not influence the voters.

Meanwhile, both candidates are very much concerned about Texas. That state is likely to go Republican in the 1960 election. One reason that Lyndon Johnson was nominated for the Vice Presidency was that the Southern states were definitely in a state of revolt at the Democratic Convention.

It seemed wise and even necessary to nominate someone who could hold the Solid South in line. It appeared logical to the Democrats, at the time, to entrust such a task to the popular Lyndon Johnson with the assistance of Sam Rayburn. Also, Lyndon Johnson was advertised as a conservative and it was hoped that his conservatism would take the curse off the Kennedy.

It seems to be working out differently and the place where the error is showing up most sharply is Texas where anti-Kennedyism is not merely a matter of politics but has become a profound religious issue.

Despite all that is said about separation of church and state and keeping religion out of politics, no one has proposed keeping politics out of religion. The violence of the attack has astonished all political observers who generally hold that this was not 1928 and that the country was too broad-minded to invoke a religious issue.

Nevertheless, this has happened and to ignore it is to disregard a major sociological phenomenon of our times. Many Roman Catholics regret that the issue should be joined over the personality of John Kennedy, who, in his public

By Hal Boyle

"In order to compete, commercial TV will have to improve its standards, so the public will gain all around."

A veteran of 89 films and more than 600 roles in the theater and television, Bellamy started acting at 18, never took a lesson in his life.

Recently he completed the film "Sunrise at Campobello," in which he appears as Franklin D. Roosevelt, a role he did on the stage 857 times. Currently he is rearsuring a role as Thomas Jefferson in "Odd Destiny" on CBS-TV. He played Jefferson before in the initial program of the series.

"This is becoming a professional problem," said Bellamy. "I'll have to find a way to escape presidents."

By George Sokolsky

pronouncements, has not always or even generally accepted the official position of his church.

Whatever it is to be said about this particular fact, Catholics are growing increasingly resentful over the type of argument adduced to reject a Catholic for the Presidency and the Republicans are sincerely worried about a boomerang.

In Texas, however, the anti-Catholic attitude is strong. My own mail astonishes me both by its volume and its language, particularly when the letters come from many parts of Texas, Kentucky and Tennessee. Here, apparently, are anti-Papist centers, virile, well-financed, positive and uncompromising.

Such excitement can only increase in virulence between now and Election Day and it will take great statesmanship on both sides not to permit this divisive force to lead to violence in places.

LAFF-A-DAY

"Not only is this NOT the man, Hardwinkle—it's a dame!"

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Once again the Russians are making the United States dance. Repeatedly this country's actions have been reactions to Communist actions. It happens again.

President Eisenhower has finally decided he'd better try to address the United Nations General Assembly next week before Premier Nikita Khrushchev has a chance.

There was no indication Eisenhower had any intention of going before the U.N. until it was learned Khrushchev and the Communist chiefs of the Iron Curtain countries were coming to the Assembly meeting which opens in New York Sept. 20.

And even then the administration played with the idea of avoiding a direct meeting—even if it meant only being in the same assembly hall together—between Eisenhower and Khrushchev.

At first it seemed the administration had no plans for countering any anti-American propaganda Khrushchev and his satellite friends might turn loose at the United Nations.

Then it was decided that Secretary of State Christian A. Herter should go there and speak before it was Khrushchev's turn. This seemed to be the administration's plan, although Eisenhower had talked vaguely on Sept. 7 of going to the United Nations.

Meanwhile the State Department slapped restrictions on Khrushchev by saying that, for security reasons, the Russian would not be allowed to leave Manhattan Island when he got here.

The Russians began to denounce this. So did Khrushchev from aboard the ship bringing him here.

Then the administration finally seemed to realize that if Herter spoke first but Eisenhower waited weeks—or until after Khrushchev had departed before talking to the international group the Russian damage might be complete.

So Wednesday the administration did a switch and said Eisenhower would take Herter's place in addressing the General Assembly next week, probably before Khrushchev speaks.

It was only a year ago that Khrushchev blackjacked the West and Eisenhower into agreeing to a summit meeting by his threats of shutting off West Berlin unless there was a meeting to discuss a settlement of some kind.

There was no doubt that Eisenhower even invited Khrushchev here last September to try to cool him off on Berlin before there was a summit conference.

Eisenhower surely knows that his going to the United Nations is a pretty ticklish journey since no one can guess what Khrushchev might pull off to embarrass him again in the eyes of the world.

Sill, Eisenhower could hardly afford, with the whole world watching, to let Khrushchev dominate the U.N. meeting and perhaps denounce the United States from inside America without any effort to punch back.

Rockefeller Plans Campaign in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ray C. Bliss, Ohio's Republican state chairman, today announced that Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York will make a one-day whirlwind tour in northern Ohio Thursday, Sept. 22.

His initial campaign appearance in behalf of the Nixon-Lodge ticket for president and vice-president in the Buckeye state will begin in Toledo around the noon hour and will terminate that night with a Lakewood and Cleveland meeting.

According to Bliss, Gov. Rockefeller will start his trip by motorcade to Cleveland, making scheduled stops at Fremont, Norwalk and Lorain.

Journey into Red Shanghai

Chinese Urge American To Take Various Tours

EDITOR'S NOTE — While in Shanghai to visit his imprisoned brother, former Maryland Attorney General William C. Walsh was taken on various tours of the city and its environs by Communist guides. In this last of a series of articles, Walsh tells about the things he saw and heard.

By WILLIAM C. WALSH

Written For The Associated Press

I spent nine days in Shanghai. On three separate afternoons, I saw my brother, Bishop James Edward Walsh, who is serving a 20-year sentence after conviction on espionage charges.

These prison interviews were, of course, my purpose in coming to the People's Republic of China, but in the intervals the representatives of the Chinese Travel Service and the Chinese Red Cross urged me to visit places of interest in this biggest city of China.

They seemed very anxious to have me do this, so I acquiesced in their suggestions, saying I would leave the selection of the places to them.

I was taken to various department stores, to Sun Yat Sen Park, and to what was called "The Export Hall" which displayed a number of articles I was told were produced in China. There were some pretty good-looking automobiles there, including a set of white walls a piano and other products.

I also visited a commune about 20 miles from Shanghai, which I was told was the latest in that area, with 10,000 families and a total population of 50,000. Of these, 20,000 men and women worked—18,000 in agriculture, 2,000 in industry—while the others were children or people too old to work. Since it was a summer, the schools were closed but on the afternoon of my visit some Chinese ladies were having a singing class for about 30 youngsters from 3 to 5 years of age. This group was being led by a little girl about 3 years old, and when I appeared the singing stopped and all the children came up and shook hands with me.

My guides continuously asked me if there was anything particular I would like to do, and while I couldn't suggest any special points of interest, I did tell them that I was a lawyer and that some of my fellow lawyers in the United States would be sure to ask if I had seen any Chinese courts or judges.

On several occasions I expressed a desire to do so, but the gentlemen in charge said they had never been in a court, and they didn't seem to know much about lawyers and judges either.

I never visited a court or met any attorneys.

During all the time I spent with the Chinese Red Cross and travel service representatives they continuously talked to me of the progress which they said had been made under communism in China. I told them that since I had never been in China before, it was impossible for me to make any comparison between the situation now and before the Communist regime took over. Furthermore, 14 days in the country obviously don't make one an expert on Chinese affairs or qualify them to express any views or opinions about the progress or nonprogress of the country.

My final meeting with my brother in Shanghai prison was on the afternoon of Thursday, Aug. 11. On Friday evening, I left the city by train to Canton.

No Chinese Red Cross or travel service representatives accompanied me on this trip, but at Canton I was met at the station by two ladies. One represented the Chinese Red Cross but could speak no English. The other was from the Chinese Travel Service, and she did speak English.

There was a wait of more than two hours in Canton, and I sat in a reception room with the two ladies. I was served tea but no breakfast, and the travel service lady also undertook to advise me of the glories of communism. She had a low opinion of the United States, claiming that we are imperialistic. And I might add that Red Cross and travel service representatives in Shanghai had the same opinion of the United States.

I had a good many friendly arguments with these people trying to persuade them that the United States was not imperialistic. I finally wound up by telling them that I did not expect to convince them. I told them also that there was an old American saying that it is "hard to teach an old dog new tricks" and that in view of this I did not think they would be able to persuade me.

I might note that all these representatives also assured me that none of them believed in God or religion or in any future existence and when I was leaving they told me that China was entirely materialistic and believed that we live only during the life and that death is the end of everything.

The train from Canton reached Schumchun at 11:20 a.m. Sunday, and after going through customs and other formalities at the border, I was escorted to the frontier. Here I met Mrs. Walsh, who had been in Hong Kong but was allowed to come to the border to greet me, together with representatives of the British and American Red Cross and one of the Maryknoll Fathers.

This wound up my trip to the mainland of China. But naturally it did not end my thought about my brother, remaining behind in the Shanghai jail.

It is perhaps difficult to understand, but my brother obviously hopes that through some inscrutable plan of divine providence, his presence in China may, in some small way, aid in keeping alive belief in God and religion in that country. And because of this he is apparently willing to stay there if that is God's wish.

In view of this, I join in my brother's hope that he may be able to make some spiritual contribution to the welfare of the Chinese people.

He has particularly asked me to thank his friend for remembering him in his prayer.

And, as his position is not an easy one, I trust that those who have been praying for him will continue to do so, to the end that he may have the strength to carry out God's will.

Getting Acquainted with Us
Topic at AAUW Meeting

The American Association of University Women held an open house tea Saturday in the home of Mrs. Ralph Starkey, Route 4.

Mrs. Paul Ward, Ohio division president, was guest speaker. The topic of Mrs. Ward's talk was "Getting Acquainted With Us". She said that the group must be familiar with AAUW past and be aware of the associations goals and aims in order to accomplish anything in the future.

The association was founded eighty years ago to open the doors of education for women and to widen opportunities for women to use their training. Its purpose today is to enable college women to continue their own intellectual growth, to further the advancement of women and to discharge the special responsibilities to society of those who have enjoyed the advantages of high education.

On a national scale, AAUW presents the viewpoint of educated women to other organizations, in institutions and government agencies whose concern relate to the AAUW program. It encourages high standards of education for women through its approval of institutions who graduates thus become eligible to membership; develops a study - action program in education, international relations, social studies, status of women and the arts supports a legislative program; aids gifted women scholars through graduate fellowships; and brings women from other countries to the US to study.

State divisions were organized to help branches close together who felt the same needs and interests.

After World War I the International Federation of University Women was formed. It now unites the associations of fifty countries.

In the local branches friends get together to form study groups and committees to further current in Chip To Fall when She Kneels?

DEAR ABBY: My daughter-in-law won't call me "Ma" like my son does. She made it clear to me that she already has a mother. (I also have a mother but I call my mother-in-law "Ma" and I don't love my own mother any the less for it.)

My daughter-in-law never misses Sunday morning mass, and she calls herself a good Christian, but she tells my son that "old country" people make her nervous and she doesn't want their kiddies spending too much time around us because they might pick up our foreign accent. How can you knock the chip off the shoulder of a girl like that?

"MA"
DEAR "MA": You can't—but maybe when she kneels to pray one day it will fall off by itself.

DEAR ABBY: We five children are planning a big party to celebrate our parent's 30th wedding anniversary. We rented a hall, hired the musicians and sold quite a few tickets. This is our problem. Our grandfather died yesterday and we had to tell our parents about this party we were planning. As it would be a great loss of money to us, they told us to go ahead with our plans. Now the family says it wouldn't be proper for them to attend such a party so soon after grandpa's death. Should we call it off or go ahead with our plans?

THE CHILDREN
DEAR CHILDREN: Call off the party.

DEAR ABBY: A young lady is going steady with a young man. He has invited her to visit his parents out of state for a week. They plan to drive alone. The trip will require an overnight stop. I say it doesn't look right and may start gossip. Perhaps I am old-fashioned, but it would be helpful to hear your opinion.

"OLD-FASHIONED"
DEAR "OLD-FASHIONED": A young couple "going steady" shouldn't take an overnight trip together unchaperoned.

DEAR ABBY: I have a few words for "Sick of Shoes": You think you have something to complain about? My husband swears like a parrot, smokes like a furnace and lies like a rug. He never picks up his dirty clothes, drops ashes all over the house and I don't even know how much money he makes. He leaves his shoes in the living room, too. You should get down on your knees and thank the Lord for a man like yours.

DEAR "OLD-FASHIONED": A young couple "going steady" shouldn't take an overnight trip together unchaperoned.

DEAR ABBY: I have a few words for "Sick of Shoes": You think you have something to complain about? My husband swears like a parrot, smokes like a furnace and lies like a rug. He never picks up his dirty clothes, drops ashes all over the house and I don't even know how much money he makes. He leaves his shoes in the living room, too. You should get down on your knees and thank the Lord for a man like yours.

The Plains Team Has 5 Veterans

The Plains High School at Mt. Sterling has five returning lettermen for the nucleus of this year's football team.

The Plains Blue Devils are coached by Dean Porter and Wynne Evans. The latter coached at Salt Creek Twp. last school year.

Porter and Evans said they will basically have a green team this season after losing 14 lettermen last year. They said half their squad is composed of freshmen and sophomores and that five upperclassmen are first year players.

Using a split-T offense and Oklahoma defense, Porter and Evans plan to build around their returning lettermen and some promising first year men. The lettermen are John Van Dine, a back; Co-Captain Chet Clemans, an end; Keith Junk, an end; Co-Captain Jerry Merritt, a center; and Marvin Canupp, a tackle.

PROMISING newcomers are Quarterback Mike Dewey, fullback Gary Nicholson, Halfback Dan Gerhardt and Fullback Ken Perry.

The Blue Devils open Friday by entertaining New Albany. In a preview Friday they downed Miami Trace, 14-0, in two quarters.

Here is the roster with weights and positions:

Freshmen — Dano Starr, 142, QB; Greg McKinley, 85, HB; Bob Abrogast, 137, G; Paul Reay, 134, HB; Pete Woods, 144, G; Jim Endres, 135, E; Don Gerhardt, 137, HB; Gary Nicholson, 147, FB.

Sophomores — Doug Dailey, 90, G; Ken Perry, 157, FB; Dick Sharrett, 18, HB; Mike Dewey, 145, QB; Dan Fryer, 146, G; Bill Stoe, 130, G; Dan Haezel, 148, E; Otis Hockman, 160, C.

Juniors — Doug Sullivan, 162, T; Don Sharrett, 139, G; Clifford Sanders, 145, HB; Keith Junk, 172, E; David Murray, 172, T; Glen Hackworth, 140, HB.

Seniors — Bob Scott, 140, HB; Tom Bennett, 150, T; Kirk Wallace, 141, G; John Van Dine, 145, HB; Chet Clemans, 152, E; Don Wilson, 152, T; Jerry Merritt, 165, C; Marvin Canupp, 205, T.

Cheerleaders are Judy Parrett, Jeri Skinner, Gay Dailey, Pat Beale, Roxie Hamilton and Beckie Rettig.

The schedule: Sept. 16 — New Albany; Sept. 23 — at Graham; Sept. 30 — Ashville; Oct. 7 — at Greenville; Oct. 14 — at Madison South; Oct. 21 — Jonathan Alder (Homecoming); Oct. 28 — at West West Jefferson; Nov. 4 — Cedarville (Dad's Night).

Local Archerymen Will Shoot Sunday

The Circleville Archery Club will hold its annual club shoot at 1 p.m. Sunday. The Circleville Archery Club is located at Pete Bowman's Farm, just north of the County Home.

The archery course has been approved by the National Field Archery Association. There will be contests for adults and junior archers; shooting 28 targets or twice around the 14 - target course. Some novelty shoots will also be held.

Trophies and prizes will be awarded for first, second and third place.

Yankees Ready For Crucial Baltimore Duel

Orioles Must Win 3 Out of 4 Games To Regain First Place

NEW YORK (AP)—Whitey Ford and the New York Yankees get rolling tonight with the Baltimore Orioles on a four-game rumble in the Bronx that could settle the American League pennant race.

Going into the series opener, which is expected to bring in 55,000 fans at Yankee Stadium, the Yanks have a one-percentage point edge over the Birds, who swept a three-game set at Baltimore two weeks ago.

The Orioles took over first place with that sweep—then skidded to second and stayed there by winning only four of the nine games they've played since—but they'll have to win three of the four this weekend to make it back on top.

A split would leave the Birds one game back in the decisive "lost" column with nine to play. The Yankees will have 11 left.

A split also would let the Chicago White Sox crowd into a second place tie with Baltimore—if the defending champs can sweep a four-game series at Detroit this weekend.

The Orioles, all even (9-9) in the season series with New York, but able to win only one of seven at Yankee Stadium, will go behind rookie Steve Barber tonight, then pitch ace Chuck Estrada (17-9) against Bob Turley Saturday afternoon.

It's Jack Fisher and Milt Pappas against Yanks Ralph Terry and Bill Stafford in Sunday's wrapup doubleheader.

The Pittsburgh Pirates set off on their final road trip of the season tonight with St. Louis and Milwaukee still in need of a miracle to har the Bucs from their first National League pennant in 33 years.

With 14 games left, the Pirates lead by six games and have to win 10 to clinch the flag no matter what the Cards or Braves do.

After losing two in a row, the Pirates bounced back with a 3-1 victory over Los Angeles as right-hander Bob Friend won his 16th with a six-hitter Thursday.

Going into the opener of an eight-game trip at Cincinnati tonight, any combination of Pittsburgh victories and Cardinal losses totaling 10 wraps it up for the Pirates. The combination is eight over the third place Braves, who trail by 6½ after defeating the Chicago Cubs 3-1 as Lew Burdette won his 17th with a two-hit pitching job.

San Francisco defeated Philadelphia 8-6 in 11 innings in the only other game scheduled in the NL.

MacKay, Bortzen Hold U.S. Davis Cup Hopes

CLEVELAND (AP) — Lanky Barry MacKay and veteran southpaw Bernard (Tut) Bortzen carried America's hopes today against Venezuela's best in the American Zone Davis Cup tennis finals.

MacKay, clay court champion, opposed Marcos Gambus, No. 2 player from Venezuela, while Bortzen faced Ivo Pimentel, the No. 1 star of the invaders in the opening singles encounters.

Doubles are scheduled Saturday, and the final pair of singles Sunday.

Mount Vernon Trotter Scores Upset at Scioto

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Millionaire, owned and driven by Forest Edwards of Mount Vernon continued the siege of upsets at Scioto Downs harness track Thursday night, winning the $1,000 Class B trot in 2:04 3-5. She was worth $26 for $2.

Eve's George finished second. Curly Lambert was third.

Empress Rodney, 4-5 favorite, led at the three-quarter pole, but broke stride 100 feet from the wire and finished sixth.

Bronc Unit Rolls To 6-0 Victory

Ashville found the punch last night to hand host Triad High School a 6-0 football defeat.

The Broncos pushed across in the last two minutes of the game to break a tight duel. They threatened several times earlier, but were halted each instance on penalties and other bad breaks.

It marked the first win in two starts for Coach Russ Gregg's force. The Broncos dropped their first test to Amanda last week, 26-0.

The Triad win was a big one for Ashville. It was the opening game in Darby Valley League play. Triad won last week, 20-6, over Jonathan Alder, another DVL team.

BRONCO Quarterback Jim Gregg got the game's only touchdown when he sneaked over from about two yards out with only two minutes remaining.

Coach Gregg, pleased with his team's improvement over last week, said his defensive unit did an excellent job in giving his offensive corps room to move.

Ashville's leading ground gainer for the evening was Fullback Dan Hollenback who rolled for 74 yards in 12 carries. He was ably supported by Backs Gregg, Dick Noggle and Bob Kuhlwein.

Gregg said Triad also moved the ball well, but was clipped short on two occasions on interceptions by Gregg and Kuhlwein.

Gregg praised several of his linemen, including Jim McCoard, Ken Cummins and middle backer Bill Pritchard. He said Ends David Newton and Ralph Swank also performed well.

Jim Brown, a defensive workhorse, suffered a knee injury early in the game and was lost for the remainder of the test. Gregg said Ronnie Will and Ed Chaffin turned in good replacement jobs.

THE Broncos rambled for 14 first downs compared to four for Triad. Their try for extra points was stopped.

Ashville missed an excellent scoring opportunity in the first half when a drive was stopped on the

Logan Elm Nabs 20-8 Win

Logan Elm High School opened its first football season in history on a victory ring by slashing to a 20-8 win yesterday against the host reserve team of Lancaster Boys Industrial School.

Fullbacks Dick Dean and Roger Clarke rambled for two of the Logan Elm touchdowns in the first half and Quarterback Bill Parker uncorked a pass to End Dick Shaw for another in the second episode.

The Logan Elm gridders of Coach Keith Merrin missed their first two tries for extra points, but Parker found End George Clifton for two points following the third touchdown.

BIS scored its lone TD in the fourth quarter on a pass play which covered about 25 yards. The hosts also tallied their two extra points on a pass play.

College Gridiron To Open Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southern California, back in business for the glory and gold of post-season bowl games, launches the 1960 major college football season tonight against Oregon State in the Los Angeles Coliseum.

Gone are the days when the giants wait until the last Saturday of September to begin play. The weekend schedule lists the likes of Mississippi, Pitt, Washington, UCLA, Alabama, Georgia Tech, Georgia, Army, Texas Christian, Navy, Texas, Maryland and West Virginia, just to name a few.

But tonight, the Trojans have the stage to themselves. Out of the NCAA doghouse at last, and eligible for the Big Five title and Rose Bowl berth, Southern Cal opens Coach John McKay's first season at the helm.

Oregon State is still rebuilding under Coach Tommy Prothro, but McKay, one of 18 coaches starting new jobs this weekend, has a problem caused by the graduation of Clark Holden, the No. 1 ground gainer last year, and his understudy, Jim Conroy, USC's No. 4 offense leader. McKeever will return to end on defense.

Saturday night in the same Coliseum, Pitt, with its "C" boys—Cox, Clemens and Cunningham—in the backfield meets UCLA, another Big Five member. The Panthers, minus a solid throwing quarterback, must offset the running of UCLA tailback Skip Smith with their backfield trio.

Georgia and Alabama clash at Birmingham, Ala., in the televised game of the day (ABC-TV), 3:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time. Both are injury riddled but Georgia, defending Southeastern Conference and Orange Bowl titlist, may have its title hopes dampened by a much-improved Crimson Tide offense.

Also in the South, Georgia Tech and Kentucky meet in another SEC game, while Louisiana State, the 1958 national champion, and third last year plays Texas A&M. Maryland plays West Virginia while Virginia Tech and North Carolina State meet in other top games.

In the East, defending national champion Syracuse is idle for a week, but Penn State meets Boston University. Army takes on ambitious University of Buffalo and Navy goes against Boston College.

Texas Christian, Texas and Southern Methodist, of the Southwest Conference, do some business with the Big Eight. TCU meets Kansas while Texas faces upset-minded Nebraska. SMU turns its attack to the ground against Missouri.

Mississippi, Syracuse's chief threat for national honors, is at Houston against the Cougars.

Tulane of the SEC travels to the West Coast to meet California in an intersectional battle.

Washington goes against College of the Pacific. Also on the Pacific Coast, Stanford plays Washington State, while Idaho meets Oregon.

Draft Board Anniversary

Selective Service Is 20 Years Old

On November 28, 1940 Dudley W. Stout, Bernard Matz and Millard Good reported to Fort Hayes in Columbus for induction into the US Army. These men were the first to be drafted from Pickaway County under the Selective Service Act of 1940.

Today marks the 20th anniversary of the Selective Service Act, which went into effect September 16, 1940.

On that day President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed into law for the first peacetime conscription act in our history, and issued a proclamation calling for the registration of all male persons between the ages of 21 and 35.

Lloyd Emerson Rinehart, Route 1, Lockbourne, was the first registrant in Pickaway County whose number was drawn in the National Draft Lottery in 1940. The numbers drawn were to be the first to receive questionnaires for classification under the Selective Service System. Bernard O. Grabill, Route 1, Williamsport and Roderick M. Watts, 432 E. Main St., were the second and third numbers to be drawn in the lottery.

Ruth Moffit, Mrs. Emmitt Crist, was the clerk of the local Selective Service board in 1940 and the members of the board were Emmitt L. Crist, chairman; Durward Dowden, Jay Clark and George H. Armstrong.

THE IDEA of the modern selective service system began as far back as 1926 under the old National Defense Act. Within two months after the present selective training and service act passed, the first inductees began reporting to military camps. In all, 10 million men were inducted into all branches of the service between November 1940 and October 1946.

Lloyd Phillip Davidson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arce Davidson, Route 2, Ashville, is the most recent 18 year-old to register with the local board. Davidson registered Wednesday afternoon.

Riding Club To Sponsor Charity Show

The Circle Valley Riding Club will sponsor a Charity Horse Show Sunday at the Pickaway Co. Fairgrounds. The proceeds of the show will be given to the County Children's Home.

The money will be donated towards the purchase of a new shelterhouse at the home. A donation of one dollar will be the admission; children under 12 admitted free. The show will begin at noon Sunday.

Traffic Safety Committee Will Meet Wednesday

The Pickaway County Safety Committee will meet Wednesday, 7:30 p. m., in the Common Pleas Courtroom. All organizations in Circleville and Pickaway County are urged to send a representative to this meeting.

Trick by Magician Solved by Surgeons

BELLEVUE, Ohio (AP) — Dan Burke, an 18-year-old magician, ended a display of his tricks by making a half-dollar disappear.

Surgeons at Bellevue Hospital provided the encore. They had to operate to recover the coin which Burke inadvertently swallowed.

All this week the selective service system has been celebrating the 20th anniversary of its founding as a governmental agency. The local office located on the second floor of the court house will have "open house" Monday for anyone who cares to visit the office.

The present members of the local Selective Service board are Miss Regina Thornton, clerk; Jack E. Clifton, chairman; Harry W. Puffinbarger and John A. Riley.
